Professional Alliances

Professional Alliances are groups of Community Action employees who share similar job functions and goals. These groups meet several times each year to exchange information and access training opportunities.

Why should I participate in a Professional Alliance?

- To increase your professional development through training and exchanges of information between Community Action Agencies.
- To network with your peers and share best practices.
- To help move the Network's transformational plan forward, thereby increasing the capacity of all Community Action Agencies in the state.

Logistics

Most professional alliance groups meet quarterly in Jefferson City for either one full or two half days.

The meetings often incorporate short professional development or training sessions that have been identified as needed by the group.

Information about upcoming meetings can be found on the Missouri CAN website at www.communityaction.org/professional-development#pa.

There is no cost to attend a professional alliance meeting. However, Missouri CAN does not provide transportation, food or lodging. Please check your local agency's policies for information on per diem and travel.
